

Student Discounts

Discounts for Technology, Software and Other Student Deals

Start here:

Before buying a device, software or accessories:

- ✓ Check what your institution provides for free
- ✓ Compare education pricing from official stores
- ✓ Search Student Edge, UNiDAYS, and Student Beans for additional discounts.
- ✓ Contact software providers directly to ask about student pricing, education licences, free trials, or discounted subscriptions. Many companies offer student discounts that may not be widely advertised.

Student Device Discounts:

- Apple Education Store: Lower pricing on devices, accessories and selected services.
- Microsoft Education Store: Lower pricing on devices, accessories, and selected products.
- Dell Student Program: Student pricing on selected laptops, monitors, and technology products.
- Lenovo Education: Education pricing and student purchasing options across a range of devices.
- HP Education Store: Student access to lower pricing on computers and accessories.

Software & Productivity Tools:

- Microsoft 365 Education: Many students can access Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Teams, OneNote and OneDrive through their institution.
- Adobe Creative Cloud: Education pricing available on Adobe software including Photoshop, Illustrator, Acrobat and Premiere Pro.

Other suggestions:

- Search your education provider and others, to see if they have tips or other discount opportunities. For example, Charles Sturt University has a page on student IT discounts.
- Search for organisations or initiatives, such as Work Ventures, that provide second-hand devices for free or low cost.
